The Anderson County Chapter invites members and nonmembers to submit articles on anything which would be of interest to Anderson County researchers. These may include, but are not limited to, the following: church, newspaper, Bible, military, slave and cemetery records; abstracts of Anderson County records; and what happened to our "family or cousins" who moved away. Please photocopy any original family documents, such as Bible records. Include the title page, showing the date of publication, if possible. A typed or printed transcript of the photocopied record would also be appreciated. Information regarding family reunions is also accepted. Please send these articles or your comments to the above address, ATT: Newsletter Editor.

Our annual Christmas Dinner Meeting will be held Saturday, December 7, 1996 at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 7:00 p.m. at Anderson College. Further details and a reservation form are included in this newsletter. Those of you who have never attended our dinner meeting have missed a lot of fun and good food and we would really like to have you join us for a nice evening. Those of you who have attended in the past will not want to miss this one!

The next four pages continue the 1850 Mortality Census for Anderson County.

The following continues the series of articles published in the Anderson Intelligencer from the Five Forks area of Anderson County beginning February 5, 1890. These articles were written by someone living in that section of the county and were signed "Shanks". Please read these carefully, take notes of any clues, and see if you can help us determine his real name.

Five Forks Items.

On last Friday morning my young friend, Monroe Gambrell, came by my mansion and invited me to accompany him to Anderson. So making a hasty toilet, I was soon seated by his side and flying over the road at 2.40 per mile. We were soon joined by Mr. John Gambrell, and all had a pleasant and enjoyable ride, arriving in your beautiful little city before 11 o'clock. Immediately after attending to a little postoffice duty, I visited for the first time, the INTELLIGENCER office. I was favorably impressed with the neat, tidy appearance of the office. A business air pervades the whole sanctum. Added to this, is the courteous and sociable entertainment of the proprietors, which made me almost at home.

On our return we found that Mathias Richardson, Andrew Patterson, Ed. Smith, et al, had just killed a mad dog in the neighborhood. Week before last I killed one myself. I am not certain, however, that the dog I killed was mad, but I was, and the "dog is dead."

Monroe while in town bought a bedstead, and would have got a mattress had the clouds not looked so watery. He would not tell me her name, or when it will happen.

Farmers have had another cold, rainy set-back, but they are pulling the string all the harder, and are determined to "get there, Eli."

Oliver has added another good hand to his force. His young mule plows like a top, and his bell gives no uncertain sound.

Wheat still looks well. I hear a rumor of rust on the wheat. Haven't seen any. Hope it is a rusty report.

Bass. is giving ocular evidence that he is a better farmer than merchant, and that the girl who becomes Mrs. Bass. will never suffer for "hog and hominy."

We had a light frost yesterday morning. Nothing killed. SHANKS.

Five Forks Items.

Mrs. Dr. Duckworth and her little daughter, Birdie, leaves home this morning to visit friends and relatives in Dallas, Texas. They carry with them the prayers and blessings of our whole community. Mrs. Duckworth is one of Five Fork's good Samaritans, whom we are loath to give up, even for a short time. May the parties have a pleasant and enjoyable time, and a safe and early return.

Mr. Chesley Duckworth had the misfortune to lose a $100 cow a few days ago.

The mad dog scare has subsided, and I, for one, am sorry for it. We have a multitude of supernumerary dogs that ought to run mad, as there seems to be no other way to get rid of them.

We had a fine rain Saturday night, and the cry of bad stands of cotton will be heard no more, but the complaint of bad stands of corn will still be heard. It seems as if moles and various insects had formed a conspiracy against the corn crop. I wish some of your readers would give us a plan for destroying moles without putting salt on their tails.

Well, I take it all back—every word of it. Wheat has got the rust, got it bad, too. I see it on the briars, and can taste it in my bacon. I fear it will work blue ruin with wheat and oats, but it will have to spread itself if it beats me in the race for my bacon.

I paid Greenville a visit last week. Our folks over there are all well, and everything like business is running in first-class style. I spent most of time at the popular boarding house of Mrs. Lepting, and would advise all my friends who visit Greenville to go and do likewise. An hour or so spent with the family is a good investment of time.

On my return from Greenville I left the train at Piedmont and came from there home by private conveyance. It was altogether too private to suit me. The team broke down several times on the road, and had to be watered and shaded frequently—one of the blisters is not well yet.

Well, Mr. Editor, if you have any idea of candidacy you had better visit the kingdom of Five Forks right away, as we mean to set the ball in motion at an early day. If you come, don't forget to call at the mansion and take a peep at my English peas and be sure to go and see Joe and Sally, two of the happiest people in our section. They have been married 13 years, and have never had to buy a vial of paregoric or soothing syrup yet. I must close and go and see you right now. Look out, here I come. SHANKS.

From Five Forks.

MANSION HOUSE, ROOM NO. 1,

KINGDOM OF FIVE FORKS.

MR. EDITOR: Ahem! Well, yes, I was in Anderson Saturday, and attended the political meeting, but got little of the cream and gist of the speaking. I, however, got a full benefit of the tumbledown, but not quite as much as Mr. Wilson and Mr. Pruitt. I also got the benefit of the braying, snorting and cavorting of "Baalam's" mules, and the delicious perfume of rot-gut whiskey. I left Anderson without a single politic in my carcass—a wiser and a sadder man. I saw but few full fledged candidates while at Anderson, but saw lots of eggs just pipped.

There is no very important news in the Kingdom. Everybody is busy, and nearly everybody happy, except your humble servant. My little red Jersey pig got out of the pen Saturday, and made for parts unknown.

Miss Ida Shirley, an accomplished and lovely young lady from the Waco section, was visiting her aunt, Miss Emily Jones, last week. "Boss" sojourned there most of the time during her stay.

There is still some sickness in our community, but no critical cases.

I have just been reading an eulogy on Senator Beck, of Kentucky. He was a noble man, and his death is a great National loss. One by one, our great and gifted men are passing away—and I'm not feeling well myself. Deliver us, oh! ye power above,

From party strife and party tools,
From rot-gut, and from Baalam's mules.
May Righteous Wisdom swell our ranks,
I am, Dear Sir, your humble— SHANKS.

Five Fork's Items.

"There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is common among men."—Bible.

And even here in the Kingdom, with all our boasted culture, refinement and high moral standard, inspite of all I can do an occasional evil comes to the surface. We have two greivous evils to contend with at the present writing, viz: The political evil, and the crab-grass evil—crab grass pre-eminent. We are trying to forget the former while killing the latter. We have all been bored by newspaper accounts of the Farmer's movements all over the country. But, Mr. Editor, if you will make a flying visit to the Kingdom you will see the Farmers' movement exemplified. Go where you will, you see farmers moving in double-quick time. Everybody wants to increase their force. If there are any surplus hands down your way send them up. They will meet a cordial welcome. Well, to make a long story short, everybody is behind—nobody before at all. But, if rain holds up one week longer most of our farmers will pull through. Cotton and corn both look well where it has been worked. Wheat is nearly ready for the reaper. In fact, some wheat was harvested last week.

Mr. E. M. Watson's mule that got so badly cut up in a wire fence, is getting well.

My little swino-born-grunter has been recaptured, re-incarcerated and his prison made pig proof. He will hardly get out again unless he gets out on a writ of habeas corpus.

"Boss" still keeps his colt in Miss Emily's pasture, and every time Miss Sallie comes over to see aunt Em. "Boss" colt gets foundered.

Oh, do tell me, who is Mr. "Jumbo," of Piercetown?—the knights of the quill, the great mogul of the anti-Tillmanites who so effectually demolishes Mr. Tillman and shows him up as incompetent and unworthy of gubernatorial honors, and then goes on to make other nominations for Governor, Congress and the Legislature, not forgetting to nominate himself as a candidate for the Legislature. I believe the only charge that "Jumbo" brings vs. Mr. Tillman is, that on the day of the Tillman meeting at Anderson, some persons who had imbibed a little strong on "rot gut" were noisy and behaved badly. I fail to see how "Jumbo" can make Mr. Tillman responsible for the misdemeanor of others. I was there myself, and heard Tillman more than once ask the noisy ones to keep order and be quiet. I have no doubt but that Mr. Tillman was ashamed of the conduct of some of his friends on that occasion. The indications are that the anti-Tillman candidates will soon be in the same dilemma, unless "Jumbo" holds his tongue. Well, I really admire "Jumbo's" aspirations, but I deplore his judgment. I should be very much surprised to learn that my friend "Jumbo" had been sent to the Legislature, but not at all surprised to hear that he was in Columbia. Selah. I will say no more on the "Jumbo" platform, only I would suggest that in the future he gives us his nom de plume as "Mumbo Jumbo." (The African Deity.)

Now, I am not a Tillman man, neither am I an anti-Tillman man. It's too soon for me. I await developments. I want to find out who is going to be the "under dog in the fight."

SHANKS.

Five Forks.

We are hot and dry. Rain needed badly. Corn and cotton look well. Crops generally clean. A great deal of the corn crop laid by. The health of the community good.

The farm of Thos. Welborn is a thing of beauty. Taking it altogether, i. e., his own individual crop with that of his tenants, it is the best I have seen. Bill Neal Hunnicut, one of Mr. Welborn's tenants, has the best worked crop in the Kingdom. Thos. Wakefield has a little the best corn I have seen. Our bell-ringer is out of the wilderness, and his crop tells just how he got out. Everybody is taking things fair and easy.

Miss Beula Richardson, with her mother, visited her uncles, Mathias and Newton, on Saturday evening. The young lady will, in a short time, return to school in Cincinnati, and the indications are that she will take the 10 of hearts back with her.

Well, right here, I wish to enter my protest against two more evils which came to the surface before I was aware of it, viz., our little Five Forks Postoffice hardly pays expenses at best. The few stamps the Postmaster cancels is all he gets for his services. Every letter written here at home and sent to Anderson to mail robs him of two cents. Friends, pause and reflect, patronize your own little Five Forks Postoffice and aid the Postmaster all you can by so doing.

Evil the 2nd: Friend, when you need the assistance of our faithful and efficient Dr. Duckworth, don't wait till you have done your day's work, and then go for him about dark, drag him from his home in the night, deprive him of rest, and then grumble like Sheol if he charges extra for night service. Pause and reflect.

All this Northern portion of our County is solid for Tillman, "Jumbo" & Co. to the contrary, notwithstanding.

"James Henry," Esq., has applied for citizenship in the Kingdom, and I guess we can take him in. He seems to be a good sort of fellow, any way, and then he is good looking. Mind you, we admit no ugly folks into our fraternity—ugly parties need not apply.

A friend of mine in Charleston sends me a copy of the News and Courier, dated 16th inst. The whole paper is full of malicious abuse of Mr. Tillman. Now would be a good time for some enterprising man to start a soap factory in Charleston if the grease could be obtained. The News and Courier will furnish the concentrated stuff. But, Pahaw! what more can we expect from the News and Courier? It has never been anything but a political "mud slinger," ever ready to do the dirty work of its pet party, provided there was need for dirty work. I was glad to observe while at Anderson on Wednesday last that the boys and good people of Piercetown were not all "Jumbos." Tillman was well represented from Piercetown. I could hear little else from the anti-Tillmanites the other day but "splitting the party," "splitting the party." Ah! that is not the eye-sore—it is the bursting of the ring they dread.

SHANKS.

Five Fork's Items.

We are suffering badly for rain. But for that fact our crops are fine and all clean.

The health of the Kingdom is pretty good.

Mrs. B. S. Watson has been quite ill for some time past, but we are glad to see her on foot again.

Mrs. Mollie, wife of J. P. Gambrell, is improving slowly.

Mrs. Thos. Pressley is visiting friends and relatives in Abbeville County. Mr. Thos. Link is visiting in the same County.

Mr. T. T. Wakefield, in company with his brother and wife, visited Fort Hill Saturday.

Jas. Henry is threshing wheat in the Kingdom. O. W., the Bill man, realized fourteen bushels of wheat per acre. Who can beat it this season?

David Gaillard has moved in on us just in time to vote for Tillman, or any other man. He and B. S. Watson have gone into cohortership in the blacksmithing business. They pledge themselves to shoe mules all round, heels or no heels.

Since I began these items I have had a short call from my worthy, life-long friend, M. M. Manley, of Pelzer. He is about as strong for Earle as I am for Tillman. We had quite a controversy on political issues, still we parted the same old warm friends we have been for many years. Come again, "Milt," you will always meet a warm welcome at the mansion.

Well, the political outlook is Tillmanward and still getting Tillmaner. Our Five Forks Democratic Club met on Saturday last. The President being absent, and there being no Vice-President elect, we proceeded at once to elect J. N. Richardson to fill that office. Mathias Richardson, O. W. Casey, W. L. Dalrymple and Joseph N. Wilson were elected as delegates to the Convention to be held at Anderson on Monday, the 14th inst. Resolutions were then passed endorsing the farmers' movement and B. R. Tillman for Governor. Selah.

Politically we are quiet. We have no bad blood to be set on fire of sheol by "rot-gut" whiskey. We are all Democrats, all farmers, and nearly all Tillmanites. We claim to be, as Mr. Earle said, the back-bone of the country. Yea, we claim to be a little more than that. Mr. Earle said at the last campaign meeting in Anderson that he was as good a friend to the farmer as Mr. Tillman; that he recognized the farmers as the back bone of the country. But, said he, the farmers are not back-bone and ribs, too. Now, will the gentleman or any of his adherents please present us with a sample of the ribs. Please tell us, oh ye anti-Tillmanites, what class or classes it is that can live independent of the farmer? And then give us the class or classes the farmer can not live independent of. Now, if the farmer is not back-bone, ribs, heart, liver, feathers, entrails and all of our country then my name is not

SHANKS.

Five Forks Items.

No rain yet, and blue ruin stares us in the face. Crops present a gloomy appearance, and a few more days of dry, hot weather will blast the farmers fondest hopes. Everybody's face is elongated, and all seem to be like the little boy the calf run over—nothing to say. If there has been a smile cracked in the Kingdom for the last ten days I am not aware of it.

Thos. Welborn is making a virtue of necessity and using the drouth to advantage. He has opened a brickyard and is making a success of the business. Well, there is no use talking about little Tom. It is impossible to catch him idle, or keep him from making money, hot or cold, wet or dry. He has a machine and a will for every emergency.

Mrs. Darracott re-opened her school last Monday, and I understand she will be compelled to employ an assistant, as the school is over-full and still increasing.

Mr. J. P. Gambrell has a fine milch cow to sell. I hope he can't sell it, and he and his heap better half know just why I hope it. Dave and Sally entertain the same lively hopes.

I think Monroe has a sneaking idea that he will get to call "Shanks" grandpa. I know John has, and I rather think Boss is that way inclined, (as the girl said by being baptized) Walter says if the law is ever changed in regard to matrimony so that men will have to surrender their names at marriage instead of women, that his name will be Davis.

Well, I am glad to observe that the fire-eaters—political fire-eaters—are cooling off on both sides and becoming more calm, showing more of the civilized element, which should characterize us in all things, both politically and otherwise. I was glad to read your editorial on the situation in last INTELLIGENCER. Your remarks are unobjectionable, even to the strongest Tillmanite. If a few more anti-Tillmanite editors would follow your example, and a political dynamite would explode and blow that little squad of Haskelites to kingdom come, our country might regain her political equilibrium and make a respectable race for Governor, and one that nobody could complain of, let the lucky man be who he might. I never saw a fice dog that could bear to see bull dogs at peace, and one fice can set twenty bull dogs to fighting. The Haskelites remind one of Brandibus' bear. Now, this bear was a noted fighter, and fighting he fell, and falling he lay about.

Selah. I do wish I could make everybody feel as friendly and sociable as I do when I am not mad. Yea, I wish I could feel about every anti-Tillmanite as I do about you, although I did not like some of your political squibs along at the first. I thought at one time—in fact it was the current idea of the Kingdom—that you was drifting to "Jumboism." Several threatened to discontinue taking the INTELLIGENCER, but I told all the boys that you would face up all right in the end, and so it turns out. You are nearly as popular up here as I am, and I hope you will do like the old negro done when sowing oats. Just keep on a continuing. Well, I will close by saying I am Tillmanized, inside and out, and any farmer with good common-sense who is not a Tillman man ought to be squeezed to death between two mountains without the benefit of hollering.

Peter's wife's mother lay sick of a fever, They called Dr. Haskell to come and relieve her, Earle tonic the Doctor did quickly prescribe, But the old lady swooned, kicked the bucket and died.

Farewell, dear old mother, requiesant in peace,
May your faults be forgotten, your virtues increase,
Your life was a play of political pranks,
I wish I had known you, and you had known
