October: Family History Month

Some lobbied long and hard for the legislation that made October, Family History Month. Senator Orin Hatch was especially helpful in it's passage last year. This month should be a time to celebrate "who we are" and "where we are from" so our family will know about our ancestors and their accomplishments. In order for that to happen, something has to be done to get their attention. On Ancestry.Com, George G. Morgan, who writes a column called "Along those Lines...", has suggested 5 Projects to do with your family, from which the editor has paraphrased:

1. Have a Story-telling Night -TV's off and all the family gather and learn what it was like back when grandma was a girl.
2. Look at Pictures- bring out the family album and talk about the events and places -LABEL them for the future
3. Make a Cookbook- Bring everybody together to write down the recipes that are passed from generation to generation.
4. Visit a site of Family Interest- Take a big or little trip to see old houses, cemeteries, battlefields, and hometowns.
5. Involve the Children- Have an "I'm my own grandma" party. Dress them up or teach them a song, or write a play. Serve cake and ice cream. Make it fun.

Our children or grandchildren are our future and they should learn important lessons about their history. If you don't tell, they may not ask. "Genealogists and family historians often work alone but here is an opportunity to share fascinating information and stories you have gathered with other members of your family in a fun and exciting way," said George Morgan. They may even become family traditions as well.

Minutes- May 5, 2003

The Anderson County Chapter of the SCGS met at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints with 36 members and guests present. Guests introduced were Ralph and Laura Bennett, Ed Jean, Glenn and Lucy Evans, Mary Linne and Rich Otter, Robert E. Lee, Bobbie Sickler and Gayle Edwards. The minutes were read and approved, with one correction: Jim Harper's Intelligencer books are for sale for $23 for chapter members and $29 for non-members. Two new members were added for a total of 96 paid members. The balance in the treasury is $13,603.15. Linda Cushing reported that the brochure should include the time of meeting, statement of purpose and list of our publications for sale. Archivist John Allen Morris continues to work on obituaries. Sue Brewer reported that the McDougald book (1941-1951) could be put on a CD if the user has Microsoft Works. Books are $10.

The genealogy class taught by Jim Harper will begin May 6 and end on May 2. There is a $10 cost for materials. The course will be held at the library conference room A.

Local Attorney Rich Otter then presented a most interesting program on Oral History. He and others interviewed local citizens on tape. The interviews were then edited and proofread. Mr. Otter read several selections from these interviews and told us that the stories go back as far as the Civil War. One of the most interesting episodes was from the Viet Nam War. Next meeting is the last until October and will be held at Barker's Creek Baptist Church in June.

The meeting adjourned. Jean Martin, recording secretary

Minutes - June 2, 2003

The June meeting of the Anderson County Chapter of the South Carolina Genealogical Society was held on June 2 at Barker's Creek Baptist Church on Highway 252 with 33 members and guests present. A tour of the cemetery preceded a covered dish meal provided by the members. The meeting was called to order by the president, Juanita Garrison. The chaplain, Lamar Gamble, gave the invocation.

Ron Kay, treasurer, reported that we now have 100 members and a balance in the treasury of $13,685.54.

It was reported that, according to South Carolina law, counties and municipalities are authorized to maintain abandoned cemeteries, to mark and fence them in, etc.

The class for beginning genealogists had 16 attendees on one of the nights.

The president announced that there would be a board meeting called in the next two weeks to plan the fall programs. She asked that members make suggestions of subjects they would like to see covered.

The chaplain reported that he has a liturgy for members who have passed away.

Ron Kay reported that the Watson Family Reunion would be July 12 at the Greenville County Library.

The brochure deadline is July 10. Cindy Chandler is preparing one.

Ron Kay introduced the speaker, Dr. William Donald Kay, retired dentist from Mt. Pleasant, SC. Dr. Kay presented a most interesting slide presentation on Barker's Creek church and its members. Some of the more notable members were James L. Orr, SC Governor and Ambassador to Russia, and Squire Wright.

The meeting was adjourned. Respectfully submitted, Jean Martin, Recording Secretary

LOSS OF A MEMBER

Sympathy is extended to the family of James M. Bryan of Summerville, SC, originally of Starr/ Iva. Jim died April 20, 2003. He was survived by his wife, Helen Kellett Bryan, who grew up in Anderson.

Barker's Creek Picnic

By Ronald Kay

The June meeting at Barker's Creek was enjoyable. The people who were members from the church were very helpful, warm and friendly. The church had a long history that the ladies of the church presented in a handout of two pages. They insisted on furnishing all of the plastic products, utensils and ice. They fixed the tables for us, also. Members of the Society brought good food.

I introduced the speaker, Dr. William Donald Kay, and I found out he presented his talk with slides. He told us about the famous people in the slides and to whom they were related. He showed books written by these people And their descendents, many of them who were buried in the church cemetery. (see minutes)

NEW 11.0 FAMILY TREE MAKER

The most recent upgrade from 10.0 to 11 has made a good program even better. The FTM is the world's most popular software but it has lacked some features that would make it as flexible and usable as others. Broderbund's Family Tree Maker 11 will have the capability of keeping two files open at once, and copy and paste between the two. A print preview feature makes all corrections easier; an export to a PDF file embeds fonts and images to make it easier for relatives who don't have FTM to see your book. The upgrades are about $20 from FTM 10 and about $30 from older versions. It works on Windows 98/above.

I feel this material would be useful to many researchers and should be made public, said Linda Cheek. The Liddle/Siddell family lineage could not be included in one issue. The conclusion will follow this introduction. Thanks to Linda for sending her information to us. We encourage others to submit family histories to keep our newsletter interesting.

83. William Lawrence MAULDIN<sup>1,2</sup> was born on 13 Jun 1845. He died in 1912 in Greenville Co SC. William Lawrence Mauldin Mauldin: William Lawrence born 13 Jun 1845, Greenville County, SC, occupation Druggist, married 21 Jun 1870, Eliza T Kern Kern: Eliza T, born Laurens County, SC, (daughter of John F Kern Kern: John F and Eliza Earle). William died 1912, Greenville County, SC, buried Springwood Cemetery, Greenville, SC. Hon. William L. Mauldin, ex-Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina, and an honored and distinguished citizen of that state, was born at Greenville, where he still resides, on the 13th of June, 1845. He was the son of Samuel and Caroline A. (McHardy) Mauldin, the father having been born in Pickens county, S. C., June 10, 1810, the son of Joab and Jane (Liddell) Mauldin, the father being a native of Anderson county, and the mother of Abbeville county, S.C. William L. Mauldin's mother was born near St. Augustine, Fla., June 5, 1820, being a daughter of Robert and Caroline (Williams) McHardy, the former of whom was a native of Scotland, and the latter of Florida. William L. Mauldin's mother was a sister of Admiral John F. B. McHardy of the English navy. Both of his paternal grandsires served in the colonial army throughout the revolutionary war. His father and mother were married in 1835, at Newberry, S. C., and had a family of eight children, of whom he was the fourth. Three of the family were sons, two of whom and two daughters still survive. The father, who was engaged in the mercantile business in Greenville, died in that city in 1856. He located there as far back as 1830, and for many years was the leading merchant in the place. He was successful in his business, and accumulated a handsome property. He was quiet and unostentatious in his manner, and had no disposition to mingle in public affairs, but he was an attentive and discriminating observer of whatever was transpiring around him, and his judgment was sound and correct. His widow still survives at seventy years of age, the object of much veneration. The immediate subject of this sketch has all his life thus far been a resident of Greenville. His education was acquired chiefly at Col. Stephen Lee's Academy, at Asheville, N. C., and at Furman university in Greenville. When he was sixteen years of age, in November, 1861, he left school for the purpose of entering the service of his country, enlisting as a sergeant in Company A, of the Sixteenth regiment of the South Carolina infantry. On the 19th of November, of the above named year, he left Greenville with his regiment for Charleston. He served in that regiment for twelve months, after which he returned home, but in July, 1863, he entered the Second cavalry of South Carolina, with which he served until the close of the war. He was engaged in all the battles in which his regiment participated, and discharged his duties in a brave and soldierly manner as became a loyal citizen of his native state. At the close of the war he returned to Greenville, and for three years thereafter was engaged in the capacity of a drug clerk. He then embarked in the drug business for himself, with Dr. S. S. Marshall as a partner in the business. Since retiring from that business his attention has been devoted to the management of farming interests and to the political affairs of the day, and to the building of the Greenville & Laurens railroad, of which he was president until it was consolidated. He is the owner of two good farms, one of which is situated in Greenville county, and the other in Laurens county. In 1874 he was chosen member of the board of aldermen of the city of Greenville, and was re-elected to that body in 1875. In 1877 he was elected Mayor of the city, serving in that capacity for one term. From 1878 until 1886 he was chairman of the democratic county central committee. He was elected to the lower branch of the state legislature in 1882, and in 1884 he became a member of the state senate. This office he resigned to accept that of lieutenant-governor, to which he was elected in 1886. He was re-elected in 1888, his term closing in December. 1890. His politics are democratic, thoroughly endorsing the Jeffersonian principles as interpreted and practiced by that party. In other words he is a democrat of the olden type. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity, having attained to the degree of Knight Templar. He is past master, as well as past district grand master. He is also a member of the Knights of Pythias, and is past chancellor commander in that order. Mr. Mauldin is a man of superior judgment, and possesses the courage of his convictions to an eminent degree. His demeanor is that of a quiet, yet dignified person, and he is withal a bland and genial gentleman whose acquaintance is a pleasant and desirable acquisition.

On the 21st of June, 1870, he was married to Miss Eliza T. Kern, a native of Laurens county, S.C., and daughter of John F. and Eliza (Earle) Kern. The fruit of this marriage was six children, as follows: Caroline L., Eliza Oscar K., William L., John McH. and Mary C., all of whom are living, except Eliza M, who died in childhood.

Following the war, he returned to South Carolina and settled in Hampton County where he operated a sawmill. He received the contract to furnish ties and bridge lumber for the Columbia and Greenville Railroad and subsequently built a thriving lumber business and supplied companies in Georgia as well as in South Carolina. By 1891, Mauldin owned approximately twenty-five miles of railroad track in Hampton, Orangeburg, and Colleton counties. His son Washington C. DEDICATED TO THE MEMORY OF: Walter W. Bowen died at the home of his father near Easley, SC on 22 Oct 1901 after a long illness of consumption and buried at Georges Creek Church the day following. Walter was born 8 July 1869 and joined the Baptist church at Easley 14 Oct 1890 was baptized by Rev. D.C. Freeman. He was a brought young man of fine business qualifications and his friends expected much of him because of his marked ability. Walter was agent for the Blue Ridge Railroad at Seneca for several years, and by his devotion to duty won the confidence of both officials and patrons of the road. It is thought that the close confinement to work brought on the fatal disease from which he died. Walter told the writer more than once during his last sickness that his trust was in Christ. What a blessed thing when one so young is called to die that they can say without hesitation that I am trusting in Christ as my Saviour. His funeral was held at the grave. After a brief service by the writer, "The Woodman of the World," took charge of the body of our young brother and with a short, pointed and impressive ceremony laid him away to rest. by D.W. Hiott.
