Deadline Extended !

The Anderson County Heritage Book will be a collector's edition, featuring photos, stories and family histories of current residents, those who have previously resided here or have roots in Anderson County. The book is scheduled for publication in early 2008. Get your family information together and send it to us. Each family is allowed, free of charge, a 500-word article about their family with a photograph. Each military person is given 100 free words with a photo. Each church, club, etc., is allowed 250 free words about their organization plus a photo. In addition to free space, additional quarter, half, and full pages with photographs can be purchased for advertisements, memorials or pictorial scrapbooks. You will want to purchase this limited edition at a special pre-publication price of $55.00. If you order after May 1, 2007, the price will be $65.00. If the book is to be mailed, add $8.00 per book. Purchase of a book is not a requirement, but is highly recommended. Books with historical information like these are highly sought after and will be in demand for years to come. You should include a self-addressed stamped envelope for the return of your black and white photo that has name, address and phone number on the back, or have a copy of the photo that does not need to be returned. The extended deadline will allow us to edit information and get the the proofs ready for the printer. HELP us please by getting your article to us posthaste.

This space is reserved for you to get your article to the newsletter.

ABBREVIATED MINUTES, January 2, 2007

The Anderson County Chapter of the South Carolina Genealogical Society met Tuesday with 35 members and 7 visitors present. President Jim Harper called the meeting to order and Lamar Gamble gave the invocation. Minutes of the December meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was accepted. There was no old business to discuss.

The new officers were introduced. Jim told how the chapter was formed 18 years ago. He was the first president and the meetings were held in the old library on Greenville Street. Members are asked to give suggestions for future meetings especially programs and speakers.

The program was presented by Shirley and Wayne Galloway who reviewed the procedure for writing an article for the Heritage Book. Every member was asked to submit one article. Cost of the books is $55.00 pre-publication price. The order forms are on the brochure page that was sent with the newsletter #2. A plea was made for everyone to observe the deadline. The meeting adjourned.

ABBREVIATED MINUTES, February 5, 2007

The Anderson County Chapter of the South Carolina Genealogical Society met Monday. There were 57 members and 11 guests present. President Jim Harper called the meeting to order and Lamar Gamble gave the invocation. Minutes of the January meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was made and accepted. A three member audit team reported that the Treasurer's books were correct.

Carolyn Duncan, chapter director, reported on the State Society's board meeting in Columbia, January 13. The 2007 SC Summer Workshop at the SC Archives will be July 13 and 14 and the Anderson County Chapter will handle registrations again this year. Each chapter was asked to donate $15 for the Speaker's Reception. A motion was made and seconded to donate $15 for the reception.

Juanita Garrison, program chairman, introduced Sue Brewer whose program was on free genealogy websites. She projected the websites on a screen and gave detail explanations and tips on usage. Wayne Galloway offered tips on using Ancestry.com. Everyone took home a handout. Meeting adjourned.

ABBREVIATED MINUTES, March 3, 2007

The Anderson County Chapter of the South Carolina Genealogical Society met Monday. There were members and guests present. President Jim Harper called the meeting to order and Lamar Gamble gave the invocation. The February Minutes were read and accepted. The Treasurer gave her report. Membership chairman, Ron Kay, said that our club now has 120 members. Several officers gave reports. Our visitors were welcomed and invited to join.

The Heritage Book Committee and the Publishing Company have extended our deadline to May 1st in order for more stories and orders to be accepted. A group will go to downtown business owners to solicit advertisements. Articles can now be finished and submitted with 500 words and 1 picture. The publicity headed by Shirley and Wayne Galloway has been outstanding. Interviews and promotional talks have been made to clubs and councils all over the county. Proclamations from city councils like Belton, Iva, Pendleton, and Williamston have been issued promoting Heritage Month.

The program was the film about the "Six miles that changed the course of the South, the story of the Electric City, Anderson, SC" by Beth Ann Klosky, showing the history of hydroelectric power and the gentlemen who were instrumental in its beginnings. Meeting adjourned.

2007 Dues are payable now. March 31st is the deadline. To keep getting the Anderson Record and the Carolina Herald, send in your Dues.

Progress of the Anderson County Heritage Book

Shirley Galloway, book committee chairman, said that she had given workshops in every town in Anderson County. She was available to give talks at any type of meeting. She believed that everyone should know about the book by now. The committee is in need of photos of old buildings and would like to include visual artists. She reported that they had finished the $1500 grant from the South Carolina Humanities. Wayne had forwarded funds that they had used so far and she asked that he be reimbursed. Jane Kowolski, financial agent for the grant, states that the fund had $1,475.19; after reimbursing Wayne $514.81 the balance would be $960.38. Carolyn Duncan made a motion to reimburse Wayne for $514.81. Sue Brewer seconded the motion and the motion was adopted. There is still time to submit a family story of 500 words and a picture. Or members could by a page of pictures for $200, half a page for $110, or quarter of a page for $65.00 Pictures and memorials are welcome. We need articles about our way of life as it was then or as it is now, crop growing, mill working, cotton picking or just a story of your genealogy. No family sheets or fan-type diagrams are allowed. Just get your pen out and start to write. If you are worried about your article, someone in the Society could type it for you. We just need the information. If your family has been around for 100 years, you may use 1000 words and a picture. Military stories are 100 words and a picture. Time is running out.
