ANDERSON COUNTY RESEARCH CENTER

Exciting things are always happening at the Research Center located at 110 Federal Street in Anderson. Carolyn Duncan is constantly looking for material to help people find their ancestors. She has received personal family research from Carl Ellison, Jim Harper, David Thompson and Herbert Hendricks. Over 500 Black families are on Family Tree Maker. The articles from the Heritage Book are here. All the Census records for Anderson County have been printed or are online. One of the latest acquisitions is street maps for all the counties of SC at different dates donated by Walter Sanders. There is an index for death certificates from the state. Actual Anderson Co. Death Certificates for 1915-1923 are there. Send your queries to an email account to ask questions- acgen@yahoo.com. Consider donating your family information to the Research Center. We will accept clear handwritten pages. Even if it is only a couple of generations, it will help others who are looking for information. There are quite a few books and resources from other states as well as our local area. We have some of the earliest known City Directories as early as 1905. Included in this newsletter are the beginning lists of the Blacks of Anderson County listed in 1905 City Directory that will be continued in this year's newsletters, and an index to last year's newsletters.

2009 DUES are being Collected NOW!

Minutes- January 5, 2009

The Anderson County Chapter of the SCGS met at the Anderson Public Library with a large number of guests who had come to hear Jerry Alexander talk about moonshine and moonshiners. It was a great surprise to see that he had brought a replica of a still. He was an interesting speaker and advertised his new book, "Where have all our Moonshiners Gone," which was for sale. Those in attendance asked many questions and left with a recipe called "Good Corn Whiskey." Jerry has authored several books about the upstate. "The Cateechee Story," and "Old Pickens District, SC." He started our new year off like a bullet out of a shotgun Jerry Alexander shows a actual moonshine still to our members as Philip Cheney, President of the Anderson County Chapter looked over his shoulder.

Minutes- February 3, 2009

The Anderson County Chapter of the South Carolina Genealogical Society met at the Anderson Public Library. There were 41 members and guests present. President Phillip Cheney called the meeting to order and Juanita Garrison gave the invocation. The minutes of last month were read and approved. The Treasurer's report stated $13,868.59 in accounts. Judy Long gave a report from the state meeting. She is now editor of The Herald. Paul Kankula told about our Library having free public wireless access for LCD projector connected to internet. Our speaker, Walter Sanders is a member of National Railroad Historical Society and a volunteer at the Anderson Museum. His slide presentation told about the history of railroads. In 1853 the Columbia-Greenville line was built with a branch line to Anderson from Belton. In 1948 the Blue Ridge came from Seneca and under Main Street of Anderson. The Piedmont-Northern ran to Federal Street. In 1912 the P&N came into Anderson and ran on Murray Avenue and Tribble Street. The Union Depot was located on West Earle Street. The Columbia - Greenville, Blue Ridge and C&W Railroads used it for a passenger station until 1915. Pat Chamblee, Recording Secretary

March Meeting was cancelled due to bad weather and snow. 2009 DUES need to be paid before end of the month.

DID YOU EVER WONDER WHAT'S THE PERFECT INTERNET SEARCH ENGINE TO USE? THERE SIMPLY ISN'T ONE...

GENERAL SEARCH ENGINES:

Search Engines work by storing webpage keywords that they retrieve from the Internet. This searching process is normally done by what's called Harvesting Spiders or Web Crawlers. Available Internet webpages are automatically scanned & analyzed. Then the "keywords" that are found, are automatically added to a "searchable" index. Unfortunately, indexing methods will vary. Google will store all or part of the webpage, whereas AltaVista, will store every word.

When a user enters a query, the engine will search its generated index and provide a list of matching webpages - according to your keyword input criteria. A short webpage summary is normally provided that contains the found webpage titles and a short text description. Most engines will also support the use of result-filters, such as AND, OR, NOT or EXACT. Then the result can also be sorted by RELEVANCE (how good) or RANK (range). When I search Amazon.com, I always rank the price of items - starting at its lowest. These are some of the more popular search engines you might consider using.
