ITEM III. I give, devise, and bequeath all the rest, residue, and remainder of my property, of whatsoever kind and nature and wheresoever situate, including lapsed legacies and devises, and regardless of whether same is acquired before or after the execution of this my Final Will and Testament, absolutely and in fee simple unto my beloved wife, Mary Frances J. Barrett, if she shall survive me. If my wife shall not survive me, I give, devise, and bequeath all of said property absolutely and in fee simple unto my beloved son, Larry J. Barrett.

ITEM V. My Executor shall be authorized to make any election permitted by any tax law, including the filing of joint returns, if in the opinion of such Executor such election is for the combined best interest of my estate and the beneficiaries thereof and may make or agree to make such apportionment of taxes as such Executor may deem equitable under the circumstances.

My Executor can make distributions in money or kind, or partly in money and partly in kind as it shall determine. My Executor shall also have full power and authority to borrow money, whether to pay taxes; to exercise subscriptions, rights, and options; to improve or develop real estate or any interest therein for sale or lease; or for other proper purposes, and to pledge or mortgage trust or estate assets as security for the repayment thereof.

ITEM VIII. - (b) To the legally appointed guardian of such beneficiary.
- (c) To some relative or friend for the care, support, and education of such beneficiary.
- (d) Or by my Executor using such amounts directly for such beneficiary's care, support, and education.

ITEM IX. ITEM X. I do nominate, constitute, and appoint my beloved wife, Mary Frances J. Barrett, as Executrix of this my Final Will and Testament. ARTICLE XX

I constitute and appoint South Carolina National Bank Executor under this my Will. I constitute and appoint South Carolina National Bank, Frank J. Wigeman, Jr. and Robert J. Dieter Trustees under this my Will.

Frank J. Wideman, Jr. shall have no responsibilities or authority to act except to determine how much income and principal of my Family Trust shall be distributed and to which beneficiaries. No other Trustee shall have any authority over, or responsibility for, such decisions.

Robert J. Dieter shall have no responsibilities or authority to act except to make the investment decisions for the trusts hereunder, including buying, selling, leasing, mortgaging and all other investment decisions. No

(21) My Executor shall have the discretionary power to make partial distributions of principal or income, or both, of my estate, during administration of my estate, to one or more of my beneficiaries (including any inter vivos or testamentary trust which is a beneficiary under this Will) at such time and in such amounts and proportions as my Executor shall determine without being obligated to make such partial distributions equally to my beneficiaries or in proportion to the amounts ultimately to be distributed to my beneficiaries, provided that such partial distributions of either income or principal shall be charged against any fixed share or fixed amount of either income or principal ultimately to be distributed to the same beneficiary, if any such fixed share or amount is specified in my Will;

(22) My Executor shall have the power and authority to exercise any discretion or make any election available under tax law. Any decision made in good faith by my Executor pursuant to the power and authority given him in this paragraph shall be binding upon all persons interested in my estate and my Executor shall not be liable for any loss to my estate or to any person resulting from such decision;

(23) I request, but do not require, my Executor to exercise any available tax elections and his authority to make partial distributions of principal or income in such a way as to minimize the total of both the estate taxes and income taxes payable by my estate and its beneficiaries (including any trusts hereunder and the beneficiaries of such trusts);

(24) In payment of any bequests or upon any division of my estate or the termination of any trust hereunder, my Executor and Trustee shall have the power to distribute cash or assets in kind, or both, including fractional shares or interests in assets and to select assets to be used to fund fractional shares of my estate or any trust estate hereunder;

(25) In general, my Executor and Trustee shall have the power to exercise all rights and powers in the management of my estate and any trust thereunder which any individual could exercise in the management of similar property owned in his right, upon such terms and conditions as to them may seem best, and to execute and deliver any and all instruments and to do all acts which they may deem necessary or proper to carry out the purposes of this my Will.

ARTICLE XVII

A great deal of my estate will probably be composed of my stock in Marsh and McLennan. My Executors and Trustees shall have no duty to diversify this investment and shall not be liable for failure to diversify, but may do so if they feel it is in the best interest of my beneficiaries.

ARTICLE XVIII

The powers, privileges, rights, authority and immunities granted to my Executor and Trustee shall not be effective if, and to the extent that, they would disqualify the federal estate tax marital deduction established herein. It is my intention that my wife have substantially that degree of beneficial enjoyment of any marital deduction trust estate during her lifetime which the principles of the law of trusts accord to a person who is unqualifiedly designated as the life beneficiary of a trust, and my Trustee shall not exercise any discretion in a manner which is not in accord with this

(9) To consent to a redemption of some or all of any shares of stock which my estate or any trust hereunder may own (whether or not such redemption is qualified for treatment under §303 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, or any corresponding provision of any successor tax law) and to enter into any agreement with respect to such a redemption, which they judge, in their discretion, to be in the interest of my beneficiaries;

(10) To purchase insurance against such risks and in such amounts as they deem desirable, including insurance on the lives of beneficiaries hereunder or their relatives, but no insurance shall form a part of any marital deduction trust hereunder without the continuing consent of the primary beneficiary of such trust;

(11) To exercise any option at any time with respect to any insurance policy, as they in their discretion may deem best, except that no option shall be chosen with respect to a policy which forms or is to form a portion of any marital deduction share or bequest hereunder if such option would cause such policy not to qualify for the marital deduction;

(12) To continue and to operate any business owned by me at my death and to do all things deemed desirable by them which the owner of any business could do, including investing additional capital in the business, without liability for loss resulting from such continuance or operation except for the gross negligence or bad faith of my Executor or Trustee; and to close out, liquidate or sell the business at such time and upon such terms as they shall deem best;

(13) To form and incorporate or to liquidate corporations and to contribute and sell assets thereto, either alone or with others; to form partnerships and to exercise all rights of a partner, notwithstanding the exposure of my general estate or any trust estate to liability as a general partner, and without personal liability of my Executor or Trustee for any losses of such partnership, except where caused by their gross negligence or bad faith;

(14) To borrow such funds on such terms as may be necessary, or in their opinion desirable, in order to benefit my beneficiaries or to carry out the purposes of this Will, including but not limited to paying any debts, taxes or other expenses of my estate or any trust estate hereunder or for any other purpose they deem desirable (it being my intention to give them the broadest possible power to borrow), and to use any assets held by them for the purpose of furnishing collateral or security therefor;

(15) To make loans to, and purchase assets from, beneficiaries hereunder or their estates, provided assets are purchased at fair market value, and loans are made with reasonable interest and security;

(16) To enforce, or to abstain from the enforcement of any right, obligation or claim, and to abandon, if in their absolute discretion they shall deem it advisable, any property, at any time forming part of my estate or any trust hereunder;

(17) To compromise, settle or arbitrate any claim or obligation to or from me or my estate or any trust hereunder, and to reduce the rate of interest on, to extend or otherwise modify, or to enforce, any such obligation;

(18) To employ such attorneys, accountants, agents, brokers, clerks, custodians, investment counsel and other persons as they may deem necessary in the administration of my estate or any trust hereunder, and to pay them such compensation as they may deem proper;

(19) To receive additional property from any source and add it to, and commingle it with, my estate or any trust estate hereunder;

(20) To determine the manner in which receipts and expenditures shall be allocated or apportioned to or between income and principal and to determine whether or not to establish depreciation reserves (regardless of any Principal and Income Act, but subject always to the duty to balance fairly the interests of successive beneficiaries);

ARTICLE XV

No payments of principal or income payable, or to become payable, to the beneficiary of any trust created hereunder shall be subject to anticipation, assignment, pledge, sale, or transfer in any manner, nor shall any beneficiary have the power to anticipate or encumber such interest, nor shall such interest, while in the possession of my Trustee, be liable for, or subject to, the debts, contracts, obligations, liabilities or torts of any beneficiary.

ARTICLE XVI

Without limitation of the powers conferred upon them by statute or general rules of law, my Executor and Trustee are (subject to any contrary provision of this Will and subject to their fiduciary duty to treat all beneficiaries equitably and to balance fairly the interests of income beneficiaries and remaindermen) specifically authorized and empowered to do the following:

- (1) To retain any property owned by me at the time of my death;
- (2) To invest any funds of my estate or any trust hereunder in any stocks, bonds, notes and other securities or property, real or personal, including shares of common trust funds, participation interests in trusts or syndicates, and the like, and also including stock in any corporate Executor or Trustee or its parent company or affiliates, notwithstanding that such investments may not be customary with executors or trustees, and without regard to any requirement of diversification, it being my intention to give the broadest investment powers and discretion to my Executor and Trustee;
- (3) To sell, exchange or otherwise dispose of or grant options to purchase any property, real or personal, at any time forming a part of my estate or any trust hereunder, for cash or upon credit, in such manner and on such terms and conditions as they may deem best, and no person dealing with them shall be bound to see to the application of any moneys paid;
- (4) To manage, operate, repair, improve, alter, demolish, develop, subdivide, dedicate to the public, mortgage and lease for any term any real estate at any time held by them; to grant easements; to settle boundaries, easements and other rights with respect to real estate; to partition and join with co-owners and others in dealing with real estate in any way;
- (5) To sell or exercise stock subscription rights, conversion rights, options or warrants;
- (6) Except to the extent prohibited by law, to cause to be registered in the names of their nominees, any securities from time to time held by them or to retain any securities in such condition that they will pass by delivery;
- (7) To vote on any securities by discretionary proxy or otherwise, or to refrain from voting; and to join in or oppose any reorganization, recapitalization, consolidation, sale or merger;
- (8) To deposit any securities or property with any protective or similar committee, to delegate discretionary power thereto, and to pay a share of its expenses and compensation;

over to him at age 21 (in the case of a beneficiary below age 21) or when his disability has passed (in the case of a beneficiary under a disability) or, if he should sooner die, to his estate. No accumulation of income shall be made under the terms of this Article beyond 21 years after the deaths of all of the beneficiaries under this Will, whether named individually or referred to by class, who are alive at the time of my death.

Any payment of income or principal from my estate or from any trust created under this Will (including a trust created under this Article) to a person under the age of 21, or to a person under legal disability, or to a person not adjudicated incompetent, but who, by reason of illness or mental or physical disability, is, in the opinion of my Executor or Trustee, unable properly to administer such amounts may be made in any of the following ways that my Executor or Trustee deems best: (1) directly to such beneficiary; (2) to the legally appointed guardian of such beneficiary; (3) to some relative or friend for the care, support and education of such beneficiary; (4) to a custodian for the beneficiary under the South Carolina Uniform Gifts to Minors Act, such custodian to be chosen by my Executor or Trustee; (5) by my Executor or Trustee using such amounts directly for such beneficiary's care, support and education; provided, however, that method (3) above shall not apply any payment under any provision of this Will which is intended to (or would otherwise) qualify for the federal estate tax marital deduction or the federal generation-skipping tax grandchild exclusion. In any case, it shall not be necessary for my Executor or Trustee to require any bond or to see to the application of the moneys paid, and the receipt of any person listed above shall be a full discharge to my Executor or Trustee.

ARTICLE XIV

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any trusts created under this Will shall terminate not later than 21 years after the deaths of all the beneficiaries under this Will, whether named individually or referred to by class, who are alive at the time of my death, and my Trustee shall then distribute the remaining property of any trust hereunder to the beneficiary or beneficiaries of the current income thereof, and if there is more than one beneficiary, in the proportion in which they are beneficiaries.

beneficiary may specify that he disclaims under certain provisions hereof, but not under others.

ARTICLE XI

The provisions herein for my wife shall be in lieu of, and in bar of, dower.

ARTICLE XII

If any beneficiary under this my Will shall die with me, or with any person then entitled to receive trust income hereunder, in a common accident or disaster and under circumstances which render it difficult to determine which died first, I direct that such beneficiary shall be conclusively deemed not to have survived me or such person, as the case may be; provided, however, that if my wife shall die with me as aforesaid, I direct that she shall be conclusively deemed to have survived me.

ARTICLE XIII

If any principal of my estate or of any trust hereunder shall be payable or distributable to a beneficiary under the age of 21, my Executor or Trustee, as the case may be, shall retain the principal until age 21. If any principal of my estate or of any trust hereunder shall be payable or distributable to a person under legal disability, or to a person not adjudicated incompetent, but who, by reason of illness or mental or physical disability, is, in the opinion of my Executor or Trustee, unable properly to administer such amounts, then my Executor or Trustee may in their discretion retain the principal for such beneficiary until his disability has passed.

If my Executor or Trustee shall retain any principal under the provisions of this Article, they shall hold it in trust with all the powers and discretion conferred upon them in this Will and may from time to time apply part or all of such principal and any income therefrom to the support, medical care and education of the beneficiary or may accumulate the income as my Executor or Trustee may deem best.

Any principal retained under the provisions of this Article and any income therefrom, which is not paid to, or applied for the benefit of, the beneficiary, shall be considered vested in the beneficiary and shall be paid my Trustee. When a child attains the age of thirty-five years, my Trustee shall distribute to her the undistributed balance of her share. If a child should die prior to complete distribution of her share, the undistributed balance of such child's share shall be distributed to such persons (other than herself, her estate, or the creditors of either) and in such amounts as she may appoint in her last Will by making specific reference to this power hereby given to her. If she fails to exercise this power, the balance of her share shall be distributed, per stirpes to her then living lawful issue, or in default of such issue, per stirpes to my then living lawful issue (subject in either event to the provisions of this Will concerning distributions to minors); provided, however, that if any portion of such share is to be distributed to a person for whose benefit a share is then being held in trust under this Trust, that portion shall instead be added to that share and shall thereafter be administered and distributed according to the terms hereof which govern that share.

(b) Share for Surviving Issue of Deceased Child. Each share provided for a child of mine who is deceased when this Trust is divided into shares but who is left lawful issue then surviving shall be distributed per stirpes to such issue then surviving (subject to the provisions of this Will concerning distributions to minors).

ARTICLE X

Any beneficiary hereunder or the executor or administrator of a deceased beneficiary shall have the right to disclaim any property to which he is entitled hereunder (including any property passing in a trust in which the beneficiary has an interest) or any portion of, interest in power over such property. If a disclaimer is made, the beneficiary shall be deemed to have predeceased me for the purpose of determining who is entitled to the disclaimed portion, interest or power), but only for that purpose, and specifically not for the purpose of determining who is entitled to other property (or portions, interests or powers) which the beneficiary does not disclaim, and also specifically not for the purpose of determining whether the beneficiary may be entitled, under other provisions hereof, to a portion of, interest in or power over the disclaimed property itself. To clarify what property (or portions, interests or powers) he wishes to disclaim, the however, my wife shall be a permissible recipient of trust income or principal if needed for her health care or her support in her accustomed manner of living. I have authorized the accumulation of income for the sake of flexibility, but I do not anticipate that any accumulation is likely to be desirable.

After Frank J. Wideman, Jr. dies, resigns or is no longer able to serve, the income of this trust shall be divided equally among my children, but, if any child is deceased, her share shall be distributed per stirpes to her issue surviving at the time of distribution.

During the life of my wife she shall have the power to appoint any portion of the principal of this trust to one or more of my then living issue free of trust and in such amounts and in such proportions as she in her absolute discretion may deem desirable for the support and general welfare of such issue.

Upon the death of my wife the remaining principal of this trust shall be distributed to such of my issue, in such amounts and proportions and on such terms and conditions (either outright or in trust) as my wife shall appoint in her Last Will, but only if she survives me and only if she makes specific reference in her Will to this power of appointment. In the event she does not survive me or does not exercise this power of appointment, the remaining principal of this trust or my residuary estate, as the case may be, shall be divided into as many equal shares as there are children of mine then living or then deceased but having left lawful issue who are then surviving. Each share shall be distributed or retained in trust by my Trustee as hereinafter provided.

(a) Share for Surviving Child. All the net income from each share provided for a child of mine who is then living shall be paid in convenient installments to, or applied for the benefit of, such child until complete distribution of such share as herein provided, except that my Trustee may accumulate part or all of the income of the share of a child below the age of 21. In addition to income, my Trustee may pay to, or apply for the benefit of, such child such sums from the principal of her share as my Trustee shall determine to be needed from time to time for her medical care, education and support in reasonable comfort, taking into consideration to the extent my Trustee deems advisable any other income or resources of such child known to to such person or persons (including my wife's estate) and in such amounts and upon such estates as my wife may appoint in her valid Last Will by making specific reference to the power of appointment hereby conferred upon her. If my wife should fail to exercise this power of appointment in whole or in part, then at her death the remaining principal of this trust, or the part of this trust not effectively appointed, shall be added to and become a part of my Family Trust and shall be held, administered and disposed of in accordance with the provisions herein governing my Family Trust.

ARTICLE IX

My Trustee shall hold my Family Trust in trust and shall manage, invest and reinvest the corpus thereof and shall collect the income therefrom and distribute and apply the net income as directed in this Article.

So long as Frank J. Wideman, Jr. is serving as a Trustee, my Trustees shall pay to, or apply for the benefit of, any one or more of my wife and my issue all or any portion of the net income of this trust in such amounts and in such proportions as Frank J. Wideman, Jr. in his sole discretion shall determine, taking into consideration to the extent he deems advisable any other income or resources of my wife and issue known to him; provided, however, that during the first two fiscal years of the trust all income shall be distributed. Any income not distributed shall be accumulated and added to principal.

Frank J. Wideman, Jr. shall have the power and discretion to invade the principal of this trust in whole or in part and pay any such principal over to, or apply it for the benefit of, any one or more of my wife and my issue in such amounts and in such proportions as may be needed for their health, education, support and maintenance. Any such invasion of principal shall be charged against this trust as a whole and not against the ultimate share of any beneficiary. No such invasion of principal shall be made for my wife until the principal of my Marital Trust has been exhausted.

Frank J. Wideman, Jr. is familiar with my family and their needs, and I have confidence in his judgment. As a general guideline to him, but not to bind him, I advise him that my intention is that my children and their issue be the primary beneficiaries of this trust (in whatever shares he thinks best), because I believe my wife will be well provided for outside this trust; select real property as well as personal property and without priority between the two; provided, however, that any asset, or the proceeds of any asset, which does not qualify for the federal estate tax marital deduction shall automatically be included in this bequest. Any assets used to fund this bequest in kind shall be valued as of the date(s) of distribution of such assets.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

ARTICLE VII

All the rest and residue of my estate of every kind and description (including lapsed bequests and devises) I devise and bequeath as follows:

1. If my wife survives me, to my Trustee to be held, administered and disposed of as my Marital Trust on the terms provided hereinafter.

2. If my wife does not survive me, to my Trustee to be held, administered and disposed of as my Family Trust on the terms provided hereinafter.

ARTICLE VIII

My Trustee shall hold my Marital Trust in trust and shall manage, invest and reinvest the corpus thereof and collect the income therefrom and pay the net income in quarter-annual installments or more frequently to my wife for her life. During the life of my wife my Trustee shall have the power to invade the principal of this trust in whole or in part and to pay over to my wife or to apply for her benefit any part or the whole thereof. In making such an invasion of principal my Trustee shall have complete discretion as to the advisability of such an invasion, and shall not be limited to distributions of principal for the normal everyday needs of my wife, but shall have the power to distribute principal for any purpose my Trustee deems desirable, including the purpose of enabling my wife to make gifts. My Trustee's decision to invade principal shall be final and binding on all persons then or thereafter interested in this trust.

My wife may at any time by written notice require my Trustee either to make any nonproductive property of this trust productive or to convert such nonproductive property to productive property within a reasonable time.

Upon the death of my wife I direct my Trustee to pay over and distribute the remaining principal and any undistributed income of this trust

ARTICLE IV

I devise and bequeath all my personal and household effects of every kind including but not limited to furniture, appliances, furnishings, pictures, silverware, china, glass, books, jewelry, clothing, boats, automobiles and other vehicles, and all insurance policies on such property or its use to my wife Mary B. Evans if she survives me. If my wife does not survive me, I devise and bequeath all said property to my children who survive me, in equal shares, with the lawful issue of any deceased child taking per stirpes the share which such deceased child would have taken if he had survived me. If my children or their issue cannot agree on the manner of division of said property among themselves, my Executor shall make the division among them, and the decision of my Executor shall be binding upon them.

ARTICLE V

As a specific bequest in memory of my family, I leave Five Thousand ($5,000) Dollars to the Commissioners of the Rouse Estate of Youngsville, Pennsylvania.

ARTICLE VI

If my wife survives me, I devise and bequeath to my Trustee to be held, administered and disposed of as my Family Trust on the terms provided hereinafter the maximum amount possible, if any, without resulting in a federal estate tax being imposed on my estate, after considering all deductions and credits, but in no event less than the amount necessary to leave $350,000 in the Family Trust after payment of all expenses and taxes as required below.

This bequest shall be charged with, and diminished by, all expenses of administering my estate and all my estate, inheritance, succession, death and similar taxes (including any interest and penalties thereon, but not including any generation-skipping taxes).

My Executor shall have sole discretion to select the assets or shares of assets which shall constitute this bequest, except as otherwise provided in this Will and any codicils hereto, and my Executor shall have the power to

My wife may make such change by delivering to SCN a notice naming the substitute or successor Trustee and indicating an intent to replace SCN as Trustee. Such notice shall be accompanied by the consent of the substitute or successor Trustee to serve. Within ninety (90) days after its receipt of such notice, SCN shall pay over, deliver, assign, transfer and convey to such substitute or successor Trustee the trust property and make a full and proper accounting to the beneficiaries of the Trusts whereupon SCN shall be discharged and have no further responsibility as my Trustee.
